1	AIR BASE OPERABILITY (ABO) RECORDS (Table 360-1) (Applicable Air Force-wide) Rule 1. Changed the description of ABO planning records to state specifically their contents. Changed the location of records to "HQ USAF and HQ AFSC" vice "MAJCOMs and below," since if any ABO planning records are permanent, they are the policy records at these levels. HQ USAF publishes the ABO Master Plan which sets policy for the ABO program. HQ AFSC produces a comprehensive ABO Integration Plan inline with the Master Plan.	N1-AFU-86-41
2	Rule 1.1. Added, to cover the disposition of ABO planning records at MAJCOMs and below. MAJCOMs provide guidance and review to subordinate commands based on Air Force policy. We only need to keep these records for 2 years after superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed.
3	Rule 2. Changed the basic description of ABO meetings and exercises by deleting "exercises," as meetings and exercises are two different subjects. We propose to dispose of records on exercises in added Rules 7 and 7.1. Changed the general description of ABO meetings to state specifically the titles of these groups/committees. These meetings provide a platform for establishment of policy,	N1-AFU-86-41 programming and requirements for the Air Force ABO program. Changed the location of records to "HQ USAF" vice "MAJCOMs and below," since if any ABO meetings records are permanent, they are the policy records at HQ USAF versus the implementation records at MAJCOMs and below.

4	Rule 2.1. Added, to cover the disposition of ABO meetings records (same as Rule 2) at MAJCOMs and below. We only need to keep these records until superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed.
5	Rule 2.2. Added, to cover the disposition of ABO meetings records (different from Rule 2) at MAJCOMs and below. These meetings records relate to management, not policy, of programs. We only need to keep these records for 2 years after superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed.
6	Rule 3. Changed the description of host nation support or bilateral agreements to state specifically who they involve and what they provide. Their permanent retention is not necessary. We only need to keep these agreements for 6 years after they are superseded or terminated; same as for host-tenant/interservice support agreements covered for disposition in Table 11-2, Rules 12-12.2.	N1-AFU-86-41	Rule 3 withdrawn
7	Rules 4 and 5. No changes.
8	Rule 6. Changed the basic description of ABO and Survival Recovery Center records by deleting "operations and training," as these are specific types of records stated in general description. Changed the general description of ABO and Survival Recovery Center (SRC) in order to state more clearly what type records are held at the SRC. Their permanent retention is not necessary. We only need to keep these records until superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed.	N1-AFU-86-41
9	Rule 7. Added, to cover the disposition of ABO exercises records at HQ USAF. We retire these records currently in Rule 2 as permanent. Air Force conducts ABO exercises at various command levels. HQ USAF uses the analyses of exercises/demonstrations, which are planned and executed at the HQ USAF level, to recommend changes in the ABO program Air Force-wide. As these planning documents are historical in nature, we should continue to retain them as permanent records.

7. ITEM NO.	8. DESCRIPTION OF ITEM (With Inclusive Dates or Retention Periods)	9. GRS OR SUPERSEDED JOB CITATION	10. ACTION TAKEN (NARS USE ONLY)
10	Rule 7.1. Added, to cover the disposition of ABO exercises records (same as Rule 7) at MAJCOMs and below. These Air Force levels frequently conduct exercises which are ABO related but do not affect Air Force policy. Further, historians capture after-action data in their quarterly reports. As such, we only need to keep these records for 2 years after superseded, obsolete, or no longer needed.
11	Rule 8. Added, to cover the retention of Base Capability Acquisition Plans. HQ USAF produces the ABO Base Capability Acquisition Plan which outlines the present status and future direction of the entire ABO program in broad terms. Each MAJCOM provides feeder information to the Air Force outlining the ABO program for its command. Each base produces a plan which gives detailed status of the installation's capabilities and requirements and includes ABO operational procedures. Based on content, purpose and historical value of these plans, we consider this plan as a permanent record.
