JOB NO.10.
ACTION TAKEN11 Daily Treatment of News, ca. 1954-56, 2 in.

206-04

Daily issuances providing local psychological warfare units with decisions of planning meetings on treatment of news developments. Contains news summaries and policies on what items of news to report or not to report in broadcasts to China and Korea. Includes directives on what news commentators should state. Stress is on assorted problems in communist countries and on U.S. military strength and peaceful intentions. Those news items not to be reported generally reflect poorly on U.S. or West and/or well on communist bloc.

Permanent. Offer to NARS immediately upon approval of this schedule.

12 Propaganda Analysis Files, ca. 1953-55, 3 in.

206-04

Daily and weekly issuances of analyses of communist propaganda. Each daily issuance focuses on a specific problem or situation in a particular country, - China, North Korea, Vietnam, or the Soviet Far East. The focus generally concerns economic development in both the industrial and agricultural sectors. The issuance analyzes the situation and suggests possible themes for exploitation by U.S. propaganda. Weekly issuances provide overviews and analyses of communist propaganda as a whole during that week.

Permanent. Offer to NARS immediately upon approval of this schedule.

13 Psychological Warfare Weekly Activity Reports, ca. 1954-57, 8 in.

206-04

Weekly issuances providing reports on changes in existing facilities, and a breakdown of propaganda by themes, language, and media used. Operation goals were to demonstrate the moral and spiritual strength of the free world, expose inhuman conditions under communism, and undermine faith in communist governments. Basic themes presented are free world strength and partnership, the value of free enterprise, communist oppression, brutality, and duplicity, United States foreign aid program, and the spread of atomic reactors through Atoms-for-Peace program. Propaganda was geared toward Korean civilians and North Korean and Communist Chinese troops. Series includes posters on a variety of topics.

Permanent. Offer to NARS immediately upon approval of this schedule.
