Background Information	The Defense Health Agency (DHA) is a joint, integrated Combat Support Agency that enables the Army, Navy, and Air Force medical services to provide a medically ready force and ready medical force to Combatant Commands in both peacetime and wartime. The DHA supports the delivery of integrated, affordable, and high quality health services to MHS beneficiaries and is responsible for driving greater integration of clinical and business processes across the MHS by: •Implementing shared services with common measurement of outcomes; •Enabling rapid adoption of proven practices, helping reduce unwanted variation, and improving the coordination of care across time and treatment venues; •Exercising management responsibility for joint shared services and the TRICARE Health Plan; and •Acting as the market manager for the National Capital Region (NCR) enhanced Multi-Service Market, which includes Walter Reed National Military Medical Center (WRNMMC) and Fort Belvoir Community Hospital (FBCH). CoagClinic is a web-based Commercial-off-the-Shelf (COTS) system that is managed by DHA. The military health system (MHS) uses CoagClinic to manage patients on anticoagulation medication (Coumadin). In particular, the system measures the effectiveness anticoagulation medication on the patient versus the treatment goals of their physician. In addition, CoagClinic consistently monitors patient anticoagulation medication treatments to ensure the drugs' effectiveness. By improve the monitoring of anti-coagulation therapy levels the CoagClinic improves patient safety and reduces the likelihood of the patient developing further complications that could result in hospitalization.
