	Hotline Database Background: The Department of the Treasury's Office of Inspector General (OIG) was established in 1989 by the Secretary in accordance with the Inspector General Act Amendments of 1998. The OIG is headed by an Inspector General who is appointed by the President of the United States with the advice and consent of the United States Senate. The Inspector General reports to the Secretary of the Treasury through the Deputy Secretary and provides the Secretary with independent and objective reviews of the department's operations. The Inspector General is required to keep both the Secretary and the Congress fully and currently informed about the problems and deficiencies relating to the administration of department programs and operations and the necessity for corrective action. Description: This system tracks and documents incoming telephonic and written questions or complaints forwarding allegations of fraud, waste, and abuse of Treasury programs, or allegations of misconduct concerning Treasury employees. Upon initial screening, records housed in this database are those	Superseded by NI-56-00-2 lc

that were not categorized as actions to be taken under Treasury OIG cognizance or jurisdiction as criminal/administrative investigations, inquiries, or administrative bureau referrals

Inputs:

OIG-OI personnel physically enter the information in the electronic field blanks in Microsoft Access

System Data:

Records housed in this database are those that were not categorized as actions to be taken under Treasury OIG cognizance or jurisdiction as criminal/administrative investigations, inquiries, or administrative bureau referrals

Disposition: PERMANENT Cut off every 5 years

Transfer to NARA after 5 years

Destroy after 10 yrs

Outputs:

On a daily basis, a hard copy of the input forms is printed out, attached to the hard-copies of the complaint/hotline correspondences and filed after referral/disposition/response is completed for each one

Statistically, the output used for this database is a total number of hotlines received & processed, which is required for ad hoc data calls. Additionally, the number is reported in the Semi-Annual Report to Congress

There also exists a recently created daily internal report for OIG-OI which shows a brief listing of the hotlines entered into the database for that particular date run. To date, none of the data or information from this system is transferred to other electronic systems
